

Old Friends

Words & Music by: Elwood T Simpson Jr, Kermit Stephen Smith, Georgia Ruth Smith (ASCAP)

When you're sliding your feet into comfy old slippers
And you smile 'cause they feel so fine .
That's the feeling you get when you think of your old friends
Old friends who are there throughout time

Old friends are like jeans that you've saved in your closet
Maybe old, but they fit you just fine
And I wouldn't take all the tea there in China
In exchange for these old friends of mine

Thinking life is so great as you sit on the sofa
And stare at your wide screen TV
But without some old friends (if you don't mind my sayin')
Your life's just not all it could be

Like your comfy old slippers and jeans in your closet
They'll be by your side till the end
You may think you have all that life has to offer
But nothing beats faithful old friends

You should try making new friends everyday
But you can't make new "old friends" in the same way
No matter how many new friends you are making
Old friends are still best at the end of the day

Old friends are treasures that took years to gather
From the time when your old friends were new
While you're kicking back in your old jeans and slippers
Those friends might be thinking of you

So look up old friends you've not seen in ages
And smile as the time melts away
To back where you were the last time that you saw them
Sharing memories that never will fade

Those memories never will fade
